POOR SERVICE FURNISHED BY STREET CAR COMPANY

Up-River People Would Like to see Emil Swenson Up this Way.

HAVE TO MAKE TRANSFERS

Travelers do Not Admire Prospect of Clambering in Cold From One Car to Another.

If there is any one place where Emil Swenson, the trolley expert recently appointed to investigate street railway conditions in this district, is more needed than elsewhere, it is along the Monongahela valley, and principally south of Charleroi, is the opinion of people who have to endure most from the poor service. "Rot-ten" has become a common term in designating the order of the service, and even the most patient have become chronic tickers.

One especially bad night was last Saturday—not a pleasant evening, if one remembers a bit, to stand on an exposed corner waiting for a car. Yet this is what the people wishing to come from Allentown had to do. They waited some say an hour, while others would swear that it was nearly all night. They wanted to come to Charleroi to do the Santa Claus act, but "rotten" street car service hindered.

Among the complaints are that the passengers have to get on small cars at Allentown, large enough to hold 25 or 30 people but into which are generally crowded 150, then have to transfer to small cars at Allentown, and to the larger cars at Charleroi. At the point of transfer there is something but comfort, to be had and people have been known to be hurt slightly in making the change. This transfer is made "necessity" in order to give the large cars a chance to make a note like schedule time. It is claimed that the poor service is a daily occurrence, beginning ordinarily bad and working up until at night it is "extremely rotten."

At Allentown there is no waiting room, and the bitter blasts of cold wind strike broadly the people that have to stand there. There is no telephone service through which the time of the arrival of the cars could be ascertained. Travelers from up-river who come to Charleroi nearly every day are up in arms good and proper, and if Emil Swenson makes a trip up this way for investigation they will tell him some things that are not to the best interests of the Pittsburgh Railways company.

The members of the Retail Clerks' union are requested to attend a special meeting to be held in the Merchant's Association room Thursday evening, December 16, at 8 p. m. The meeting will be for the discussion of the early closing movement. A full attendance is desired of both merchants and clerks.

Austrian Killed at Little Redstone Mine

Run Down by Mine Car From Which He Had Jumped Off to Walk.

Vincent Parents, an Austrian, was killed at the Little Redstone mine, about one and a half miles south of Fayette City yesterday, by being run over by a mine car. Parents got in a mine car to ride into the mine. The car was stopped, and he got off to walk ahead. The car was started up, and overtaking him ran him down and passed over his body. The body was taken to Kelly's Undertaking rooms in Fayette City, in a much mangled condition. One arm was broken, and the head was badly injured. It is supposed that death came from internal injuries, however. Parents was unmarried.

PENNSY. TO ERECT ANOTHER BRIDGE AT BROWNSVILLE

Seeking Estimates Now on Double Track Structure.

OLD ONE IS TOO SMALL

Pennsylvania officials are having estimates made on the cost of a double track bridge over the Monongahela River at the end of the Brownsville yard. The structure will be entirely of steel, 300 feet long, and will connect the West Brownsville junction of the Monongahela division with the Brownsville junction of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie. It will be about 50 feet north of the present single track bridge.

The company has long felt the need of such a structure at that point and to avoid being hampered decided to build north of the present structure, so traffic could continue to be carried on across the river.

The bridge will cost approximately $700,000. Most of the filling will be of furnace slag and slate from the furnaces and mines and this part of the work will be done by the railroad company employees. As soon as the estimates are completed bids will be asked for the construction and work will begin. The officials have authorized the construction of the

FAYETTE CITY MINE OF THE RIVER COMBINE CLOSES DOWN INDEFINITELY

Did Not Run at all During Summer and Only in Part in October and November—Men will Secure Work Elsewhere.

The Fayette City mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company has been closed down and will remain closed indefinitely. For six weeks it has been running only on about half time.

The Fayette City mine was idle nearly all summer. In October it was started and worked about 75 men. This number was gradually increased up to 200 men, which has been the working force the past six weeks.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH REFUSES COWIESON AID IN THE ENTIRE STOCK

W. and J. Boy of Green Cap Fame Again Suffers a Setback.

William R. Cowieson, freshman at Washington and Jefferson college, has more troubles on his hands. The sturdy little Scotchman who defied the entire student body to force him to obey a rule which he thought degraded—that of wearing a little cap with a green button—is now to be put in a collector's hands. At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Presbytery Tuesday a resolution was passed asking for the recall of $100 advanced to pay the expenses of Cowieson, while in college.

While it is not believed that the ruling under the college rules will be publicly enforced, it is believed that following that incident have anything to do with the present action against Cowieson, it would look as though that young man is being put through a red hot crucible to test his character.

Rev. C. A. McCrea, chairman of the committee on Education of the Pittsburgh Presbytery, is responsible for the introduction of the resolution which adds a new wrangle to Mr. Cowieson. The young man is a trifle older than most of the boys in the freshman class, and his aspiration for the ministry led the local clergymen to give him their support.

Cowieson, it is said, has been preaching in Methodist Episcopal pulpits while his tuition was being paid by the Presbyterian church.

Despite the fact that the students of whom it took a squad to handle him, have socially ostracized Cowieson, he has faced the sternest opposition and continued on with his studies.

It is claimed by Cowieson that the present time are nonsectarian and that the only thing that he is doing along with. As far as is known, he has not changed his faith, but is attempting to get an education and at the same time support himself. At the meeting of the Presbytery no mention was made of the ducking affair at the college, following the refusal of Cowieson to wear the little cap selected for him by the student body.

Clarence E. Miller, who moved to Pittsburgh recently as a result of a promotion by the Heinz people, with whom he is associated, has again been promoted. He has been made manager of the Ohio district, with headquarters at Columbus, where he will move the first of the year. Mr. Miller has many friends in Charleroi who will be glad to learn of his promotion.

Telephone System More Satisfactory

Getting Trains Out on Somewhat Better Time Now on Redstone Branch.

Considerable improvement has been made in the dispatching of trains on the Redstone branch this week, by the use of the telephone instead of the telegraph. The girl operators, becoming experienced are able to more quickly clear up the yards than they were at the beginning, and although the system on this particular branch still shows some signs of being defective will apparently prove more effective than the telegraph.

WILL DISCUSS THE PROBLEM OF EARLY CLOSING TONIGHT

Clerks and Merchants will Hold a Special Session.

RESULTS ARE EXPECTED

A meeting will be held by the Merchants Association and the Retail Clerks Union of Charleroi tonight at the Merchants Association rooms the matter of early closing. The Clerks some time ago asked the merchant to close their stores at 6 o'clock evenings except Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, but the merchants would not hear to the proposition until some effort was made to have the stores of Monessen, Monongahela and other places nearby do the same thing.

The clerks have been making an effort to get the stores of Monessen and Monongahela to close and have met with some success. The meeting tonight will be called at 9 o'clock and will be in charge of the clerks.

REV. HENDRICK TALKS ON THE OPPORTUNE TIME

The music at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church last night was a feature. The choir sang various selections and the male quartet rendered inspiring music. Mr. Carter was in charge of this part and made it more effective than usual.

Rev. Hendrick spoke on the topic, "How Old Art Thou?" In his discourse he asked the questions, "How old are you in the service of the Lord?" and "What opportunities have you lost to become old in his service?" He spoke at some length of opportunity and impressed upon his hearers the necessity of grasping the chance now offered of becoming one of the lovers of the Lord. On Friday night there will be a special song service, conducted by Mr. Carter.

DISTRICT ELECTION WARM

Feehan has Strong Opponent in Whetzel, it is Thought will Pull Out Ahead.

While no official returns have been received from the general election of the United Mine Workers' organization throughout the coal fields of the country, miners' leaders in Pittsburgh yesterday received information indicating that the election of Thomas L. Lewis as president for another term is likely to be secured by a larger majority than ever before. Information from Western Pennsylvania, where Lewis has the strongest opposition indicates, they say, that he will break even if not carry the election here. The fact that he had conceded his defeat in Pittsburgh, owing to the violent opposition of his enemies by at least 3,000 made the change in sentiment the more remarkable.

From Eastern Ohio, which was looked upon as somewhat pivotal, the news came that Lewis had carried by heavy majorities. In this section he was nominated by nine more locals than those nominating his opponent, William Green of Coshocton. In some of the local unions that voted for the nominating of Green, Lewis carried the final vote by large majorities. The sentiment there was very strong for him.

It is expected that Lewis will be district president fall, being the vote of a year ago, and a stronger vote was cast for his opponents, Stephen Whetzel and William Little. The hopes of the opponents of Feehan seem to be that the Lewis ticket would carry with it sufficient strength to defeat his enemies in the Pittsburgh district.

The ballots will be forwarded to the miners' headquarters for counting and the official report will not be made until the annual convention in January. The vote for National officers will also be counted in the National headquarters where the counting will be done by tellers who will make their report to the National convention in January.

Following the National convention of the miners at Indianapolis a joint conference is to be held with operators at Toledo this coming month, when a new wage scale will be taken up and new working agreements formed. The powder issue will be one of the leading factors of this gathering.

It is stated that the local at Black Diamond voted against Feehan, giving him 31, Whetzel 39, and Little 4. Green, for National president, had 44 to 36 for Lewis.

M. D.'s Elects Officers

The Washington County Medical Association elected the following officers for the coming year at the meeting at Washington this week: President, Dr. G. B. Woods, Washington; vice president, Dr. D. M. Bell, Claysville; secretary and treasurer, Dr. J. B. Donaldson, Canonsburg. The meeting was addressed by Dr. G. H. Henninger of Pittsburgh.

Seek a Remedy.

From the numerous complaints received from patrons the upper end of the Pittsburgh Railways service is badly in need of improvement. As the Pittsburgh cars do not go to Roscoe the virtual terminus of the line, but are met at Allenport by a stub run from the former place, much trouble is experienced by lack of connections. During the past couple of weeks, while traffic is particularly heavy, in order to make their time, the large cars frequently meet the smaller ones at a siding below, Allenport, where transfers are made. Here is where much of the trouble is experienced, as it is impossible to pack the contents of a crowded large car into a smaller car, and many passengers are marooned in the wilds of Allen township with no station or shelter while awaiting another car where the experience is repeated. The lack of a waiting room at Allenport, the point of transfer from Roscoe, is the source of much discomfort and complaint.

As this lack of adequate service interferes with business in Charleroi, it is a matter for the merchants of the town to investigate at once, and see if the deficiencies cannot be remedied. Those who have experienced the annoyance are of the opinion that perhaps the officials of the street railway company are not aware of the trouble. The motormen and conductors are intent on making their runs on schedule time and perhaps do not report actual conditions, or suggest remedies. Out of town shoppers are deterred from coming to Charleroi evenings on account of the poor service, and it is up to the interests of the business people here to see if the deficiencies cannot be remedied.

ELETRIC SPARKS

They say some terrible dark things over at Washington about the Charleroi Mail, and call it the "liquor paper," and other uncalled for mean titles. Recognizing the source the Mail can truthfully remark that it doesn't care—it's the truth that hurts.

Funny, isn't it, the way Santa Claus will threaten children that if they are not good during the entire year he will not give them a thing, yet when the statistics are made, known, it is always the bad "kid" that gets the most?

A Southern writer considers the progress the negro has made since being given his freedom in the light of the number of persons that have been killed by him. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. COLONIALS FORFEIT TO THE FRIENDSHIPS

Because the Colonials had only four regular men on the floor when time was called for the game with the Friendships Tuesday night, the game to be played at the rink was forfeited to the Friendships. Then E. Riggs was put in as a substitute and an exhibition game was played, in which the Colonials beat the Friendships to a "frazzle." The score was not taken. The lineup:

POOR SERVICE FURNISHED BY STREET CAR COMPANY

Up-River People Would Like to see Emil Swensson

Up this Way.

HAVE TO MAKE TRANSFERS

Travelers do Not Admire Prospect of Clambering in Cold From One Car to Another.

If there is any one place where Emil Swensson, the trolley expert recently appointed to investigate street railway conditions in this district, is more needed than others, it is along the Monongahela valley, and principally south of Charleroi, is the opinion of people who have to endure most from the poor service. "Rot-ten" has become a common term in designating the order of the service, and even the most patient have become chronic hickers.

One especially bad night was last Saturday—not a pleasant evening, if one remembers a bit, to stand on an exposed corner waiting on a car. Yet this is what the people wishing to "climb" from Allentown had to do. They waited, some say an hour, while others would swear that it was nearly all night. They wanted to come to Charleroi to do the Santa Claus act, but "rotten" street car service hindered.

Among the complaints are that the passengers have to get on small cars at Allentown, large enough to hold 20 or 30 people but into which are generally crowded 150, then have to transfer at a point nearly a mile north to the larger cars. At the point of transfer there is anything but comfort, to be had and people have been known to be hurt slightly in making the change. This transfer is made "necessary" in order to give the large cars a chance to make a noise like schedule time. It is claimed that the poor service is a daily occurrence, beginning ordinarily bad and working up until at night it is "extremely" rotten.

At Allentown there is no waiting room, and the bitter blasts of cold wind strike broadside the people that have to stand there. There is no telephone service through which the time of the arrival of the cars could be ascertained. Travelers from up-river who come to Charleroi nearly every day are up in arms good and proper, and if Emil Swensson makes a trip up this way for investigation they will tell him some things that are not to the best interests of the Pittsburgh Railways company.

The members of the Retail Clerks' union are requested to attend a special meeting to be held in the Merchant's Association room Thursday evening, December 16, at 8 p. m. The meeting will be for the discussion of the early closing movement. A full attendance is desired of both merchants and clerks.

Austrian Killed at Little Redstone Mine

Run Down by Mine Car From Which He Had Jumped Off to Walk

Vincent Parenta, an Austrian, was killed at the Little Redstone mine, about one and a half miles south of Fayette City, yesterday, by being run over by a mine car. Parenta got in a mine car to ride into the mine. The car was stopped, and he got off to walk ahead. The car was started up, and overtaking him ran him down and passed over his body. The body was taken to Kelly's Undertaking rooms in Fayette City, in a much mangled condition. One arm was broken, and the head was badly injured. It is supposed that death came from internal injuries however. Parenta was unmarried.

PENNSY. TO ERECT ANOTHER BRIDGE AT BROWNSVILLE

Seeking Estimates Now on Double Track Structure.

OLD ONE IS TOO SMALL

Pennsylvania officials are having estimates made on the cost of a double track bridge over the Monongahela River at the end of the Brownsville yard. The structure will be entirely of steel, 800 feet long, and will connect the West Brownsville junction of the Monongahela division with the Brownsville junction of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie. It will be about 50 feet north of the present single track bridge.

The company has long felt the need of such a structure at that point and to avoid being hampered decided to build north of the present structure, so traffic could continue to be carried on across the river.

The bridge will cost approximately $700,000. Most of the filling in will be of furnace slag and slate from the furnaces and mines and this part of the work will be done by the railroad company employees. As soon as the estimates are completed bids will be asked for the construction and work will begin. The officials have authorized the construction of the bridge.

FAYETTE CITY MINE OF THE RIVER COMBINE CLOSING DOWN INDEFINITELY

Did Not Run at all During Summer and Only in Part in October and November—Men will Secure Work Elsewhere.

The Fayette City mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company has been closed down and will remain closed indefinitely. For six weeks it has been running only on about half time.

The Fayette City mine was running nearly all summer. In October it was started and worked about 75 men. This number was gradually increased up to 200 men, which has been the working force the past six weeks. A new fan is being put in and one has been doing duty for this mine and the Apollo mine. The operators were notified by the mine inspector that the single fan would not furnish enough air. However this is not given as the cause of the mine closing.

Nearly all the other River Combine mines are operating steadily so that the close down of the Fayette City mine, will not have much, if any, apparent effect. Most of the men will be employed in other places.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH REFUSES COWIESON AID

W. and J. Boy of Green Cap Fame Again Suffers a Setback.

William R. Cowieson, freshman at Washington and Jefferson college, has more troubles on his hands. The sturdy little Scotchman who defied the entire student body to force him to obey a rule which he thought degrading—that of wearing a little cap with a green button—is now to be put in a collector's hands. At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Presbytery Tuesday a resolution was passed asking for the recall of $100 advanced to pay the expenses of Cowieson while in college.

While it is not believed that the ducking under the college pump and the publicity and fierce public debate following that incident have anything to do with the present action against Cowieson, it would look as though that young man is being put through a red hot crucible to test his character.

Rev. C. A. McCrea, chairman of the committee on Education of the Pittsburgh Presbytery, is responsible for the introduction of the resolution which adds a new woe to Mr. Cowieson. The young man is a trifle older than most of the boys in the freshman class, and his aspiration for the ministry led the local clergymen to give him their support.

Cowieson, it is said, has been preaching in Methodist Episcopal pulpits while his tuition was being paid by the Presbyterian church.

Despite the fact that the students of whom it took a squad to handle him, have socially ostracized Cowieson, he has faced the utmost opposition and continued on with his studies.

It is claimed by Cowieson that the pulpits which he is filling at the present time are nonsectarian and that they help him with the funds along with. As far as is known, he has not changed, his faith, but is attempting to get an education and at the same time support himself.

At the meeting of the presbytery no mention was made of the ducking affair at the college, following the refusal of Cowieson to wear the little cap selected for him by the student body.

Is District Manager

Clarence E. Miller, who moved to Pittsburgh recently as a result of a promotion by the Heinz people, with whom he is associated, has again been promoted. He has been made manager of the Ohio district, with headquarters at Columbus, where he will move the first of the year. Mr. Miller has many friends in Charleroi who will be glad to learn of his promotion.

HAS NO PERISHABLES IN THE ENTIRE STOCK

J. W. Berryman and Son Anticipating One of Their Best Holiday Seasons.

With greatly increased store room facilities, which were added during the past year, the big department store of J. W. Berryman and Son was never better equipped for the holiday trade than this season. It has been the experience of this bustling firm to make distinct business gains each year, even during the late depression, and with the largest stock suitable for holiday trade ever carried the sales this year will greatly exceed those of the previous year.

"Look over our store," said J. D. Berryman, the junior member of the firm last night. "You'll not see very much of what may be called perishable Christmas stuff. Everything we have, nearly, that is pretty and dainty, is also of service and utility, and that's the line of goods we're having the heaviest sales on thus far this season. People are buying more and better pretty things than ever, but they are selecting something that is useful as well."

One has only to look through the various departments to verify this statement. The array of pretty and dainty things in the women's department attract large crowds. Here are filmy and dainty handkerchiefs, beautiful neckwear, shopping and hand bags that run away up into money, but are nevertheless good sellers, beautiful combs, hat pins, belts and buckles, gloves and all the pretty notions that are dear to the feminine heart. There is everything new and nice in the dry goods and linen line, fancy embroidery work, cushions, dainty fingerie, etc. In hand-painted and fine china the stock was never larger and prettier.

In ladies' suits, dresses, coats, wraps, waists and furs the stock was never larger and there are going to be more effective than usual. In the men's department there are pretty ties, suspenders, house coats and everything in that line from which to select gifts for the main gay of the household and the boys that are beginning to "spruce up." No one can run amiss of a selection at this store, which has now the biggest force of helpers in its history.

CONSTABULARY PLACED IN COUNTY BAD LANDS

Detachment Sent to Washington, and Another Into Maryland Region.

District Attorney C. L. T. Johnson received word yesterday from Lieutenant Thomas Weichard of the force of the State constabulary stationed at Greensburg, that a detachment of the state police would be placed at Marianna, the "model mining town," in West Bethlehem township about January 1. Lieutenant Weichard was in with the district attorney regarding the matter.

There are already two detachments of the police located in this county, one in Tyler ward, Washington, and the other at Burgettstown.

BELIEVED THAT LEWIS IS RE-ELECTED FOR PRESIDENT

Telephone System More Satisfactory

Getting Trains Out on Somewhat Better Time Now on Redstone Branch.

Philadelphia improvement has been made in the dispatching of trains on the Redstone branch this week, by the use of the telephone instead of the telegraph. The girl operators, becoming experienced are able to more quickly clear up the yards than they were at the beginning, and although the system on this particular branch still shows some signs of being defective will apparently prove more effective than the telegraph.

WILL DISCUSS THE PROBLEM OF EARLY CLOSING TONIGHT

Clerks and Merchants will Hold a Special Session.

RESULTS ARE EXPECTED

A meeting will be held by the Merchants Association and the Retail Clerks Union of Charleroi tonight at the Merchants Association rooms to discuss and possibly take action on the matter of early closing.

The clerks some time ago asked the merchant to close their stores at 6 o'clock evenings except Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, but the merchants would not hear to the proposition until some effort was made to have the stores of Monessen, Monongahela and other places nearby do the same thing.

The clerks have been making an effort to get the stores of Monessen and Monongahela to close and have met with some success. The meeting tonight will be called at 9 o'clock and will be in charge of the clerks.

REV. HENDRICK TALKS ON THE OPPORTUNE TIME

The music at the evangelistic services at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church last night was a feature. The choir sang various selections and the male quartet rendered inspiring music. Mr. Carter was in charge of this part and made it more effective than usual.

Rev. Hendrick spoke on the topic, "How Old Art Thou?" In his discourse he asked the questions, "How old are you in the service of the Lord?" and "What opportunities have you lost to become old in his service?" He spoke at some length of opportunity and impressed upon his hearers the necessity of grasping the chance now offered of becoming one of the lovers of the Lord. On Friday night there will be a special song service, conducted by Mr. Carter.

Children, bring your letters to Adolph's. Santa Claus will be there Monday at 3 p. m. sharp.

It's Adolph, of course.

Reports Come that There will be no Change in Head Office.

DISTRICT ELECTION WARM

Feehan has Strong Opponent in Whetzel, it is Thought will Pull Out Ahead.

While no official returns have been received from the general election of the United Mine Workers' organization throughout the coal fields of the country, miners' leaders in Pittsburgh yesterday received information indicating that the election of Thomas L. Lewis as president for another term is likely to be secured by a larger majority than ever before. Information from Western Pennsylvania, where Lewis has the strongest opposition indicates, they say, that he will break even if not carry the election here. The fact that he had conceded his defeat in Pittsburgh, owing to the violent opposition of his enemies by at least 3,000 made the change in sentiment the more remarkable.

From Eastern Ohio, which was looked upon as somewhat pivotal, the news came that Lewis had carried by heavy majorities. In this section he was nominated by nine more locals than those nominating his opponent, William Green of Coshocton. In some of the local unions that voted for the nominating of Green, Lewis carried the final vote by large majorities. The sentiment there was very strong for him.

It is stated that Francis Feehan, district president fell behind in his vote of a year ago, and a stronger vote was cast for his opponents, Stephen Whetzel and William Little. The hopes of the opponents of Feehan seem to be that the Lewis ticket would carry with it sufficient strength to defeat his enemies in the Pittsburgh district.

The ballots will be forwarded to the miners' headquarters for counting and the official report will not be made until the annual convention in January. The vote for National officers will also be counted in the National headquarters where the counting will be done by tellers who will make their report to the National convention in January.

Following the National convention of the miners at Indianapolis a joint conference is to be held with operators at Toledo this coming month, when a new wage scale will be taken up and new working agreements formed. The powder issue will be one of the leading factors of this gathering.

District Attorney C. L. T. Johnson received word yesterday from Lieutenant Thomas Weichard of the force of the State constabulary stationed at Greensburg, that a detachment of the state police would be placed at Marianna, the "model mining town," in West Bethlehem township about January 1. Lieutenant Weichard was in with the district attorney regarding the matter.

There are already two detachments of the police located in this county, one in Tyler ward, Washington, and the other at Burgettstown.

Seek a Remedy.

From the numerous complaints received from patrons the upper end of the Pittsburgh Railways service is badly in need of improvement. As the Pittsburgh cars do not go to Roscoe the virtual terminus of the line, but are met at Allenport by a stub run from the former place, much trouble is experienced by lack of connections. During the past couple of weeks, while traffic is particularly heavy, in order to make their time, the large cars frequently meet the smaller ones at a siding below, Allenport, where transfers are made. Here is where much of the trouble is experienced, as it is impossible to pack the contents of a crowded large car into a smaller car, and many passengers are marooned in the wilds of Allen township with no station or shelter while awaiting another car where the experience is repeated. The lack of a waiting room at Allenport, the point of transfer from Roscoe, is the source of much discomfort and complaint.

As this lack of adequate service interferes with business in Charleroi, it is a matter for the merchants of the town to investigate at once, and see if the deficiencies cannot be remedied. Those who have experienced the annoyance are of the opinion that perhaps the officials of the street railway company are not aware of the trouble. The motormen and conductors are intent on making their runs on schedule time and perhaps do not report actual conditions, or suggest remedies. Out of town shoppers are deterred from coming to Charleroi evenings on account of the poor service, and it is up to the interests of the business people here to see if the deficiencies cannot be remedied.

They say some terrible dark things over at Washington about the Charleroi Mail, and call it the "liquor paper," and other uncalled for mean titles. Recognizing the source the Mail can truthfully remark that it doesn't care—it's the truth that hurts.

Funny, isn't it, the way Santa Claus will threaten children that if they are not good during the entire year he will not give them a thing, yet when the statistics are made known, it is always the bad "kid" that gets the most?

A Southern writer considers the progress the negro has made since being given his freedom in the light of the number of persons that have been killed by him. Such absolute blindness is to a Northerner inexcusable, who can find more real good in a negro than in many of the so-called white aristocracy of the South.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running ear, or the ear drums are affected. The inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; also cases of deafness caused by catarrh, which is not a permanent condition of the mucous surface. ANCIENT POISON LORE

Some Obscure Facts Revealed by Study of Toxicology.

THE PENALTY OF THE PEACH.

A Document of Antiquity That Shows the Egyptians Knew How to Make and Use Prussic Acid—The Poisons of Ancient Greece and Rome.

In the mythology of Greece there was a somber saga which declared that in the far north, later described as Colchis, there dwelt some sorcerers—children of the sun. Of these Hecate possessed vast knowledge of poisonous herbs, which passed to her daughter Medea, who administered drugs to that dragon which guarded the Golden Fleece and urged Jason to gladiator-like achievements.

Menes, one of the oldest of the Egyptian kings, and Attalus Phylometer, the last king of a vigorous, undiminishedly possessed wide knowledge of medicinal plants. Attalus Phylometer compounded medicines and experimented with poisons. He was familiar with hyoscyamus, aconite, veratrum, conium and others.

Mithradates Eupator went further than either of these, however, as he prepared the famous mixture theriaca, composed of fifty-four ingredients, and which in later days sold at a great price. There is further evidence of the chemical knowledge of the Egyptians as disclosed in embalming and various technical works.

The most interesting feature of the poison lore of Egypt, however, is the fact that the Egyptians were acquainted with prussic acid, one of the most deadly poisons. They distilled it from certain plants and trees, notably the peach. In the Louvre there is an ancient Egyptian papyrus on which has been deciphered:

"Pronounce not the name of I. A. O. under the penalty of the peach."

This is supposed to be a death warning to those who might be tempted to reveal mysteries in connection with the religious rites of the priests.

It is certain that the Romans learned of prussic acid from the Egyptians, for history has it that in the reign of Tiberius a Roman knight accused of treason drank poison and fell dead at the feet of the senators.

In ancient Greece poison was the favorite method of capital punishment and suicide, and it is of interest that self destruction was considered by the Greeks as an exemplary means of freeing the soul from the body. Valerius Maximus relates that he "saw a woman of quality in the island of Ceos who, having lived happily for ninety years, obtained leave to take a poisonous draft, lest by living longer she should happen to have a change in her good fortune."

Nicander of Colophon (204-138 B. C.) wrote the most ancient works extant on the subject of poisons. In one treatise he described the effects of snake venom in another he considered the properties of opium, henbane, certain fungi, colchicum, aconite and conium and recommended antidotes for them.

Dioscorides (40-90 A. D.) described the effects of cantharides, sulphate of copper, mercury, lead and arsenic. He described poisons under three heads—animal poisons, poisons from plants and mineral poisons.

Poison lore—"poison-lore," as it was long called—was considered a forbidden subject for many ages. Gaten in his work "On Antidotes" remarks that the only authors who dared to write of poisons were Orpheus, Theophrastus, Morus, Mendisius the younger, Heliodorus of Athens, Aratus and a few others. Unfortunately none of their treatises is now in existence.

The sacred writings of India show that the art of poisoning was used for suicide, robbery and revenge, and here we learn that the original cattle poisoners lived in India. The Asiatics knew arsenic, aconite, opium and other poisons.

The ancient Hebrews were acquainted with certain poisons, and "rosin" and "chems" seem to have been the words used as general terms for poison. The death of Socrates, Demosthenes, Hannibal and Cleopatra testify to the pharmaceutical knowledge of the ancients. Phrysa poisoned the Queen Statira in the reign of Artaxerxes II. (B. C. 405-359) by cutting food with a poisoned knife.

The professional poisoners arose early in the Christian era. It is recorded that Agrippina (A. D. 26) refused to eat apples at the table of her father-in-law Tiberius through fear of poison.—New York Times.

How We Change.

"Did you notice that woman's expression just then?" queried a traveler on an elevated train, and he pointed to a handsomely gowned woman whom the exigencies of transportation had placed directly opposite an aged and not too clean man. The old man was about to conceal a big red handkerchief.

"That old fellow," continued the traveler, "just took a pinch of snuff, and took it vigorously, and the operation appeared to give him a new lease of life. Disgust was written all over her face. Think of it! A habit condemned universally by refinement today and once the habit of kings, courtiers and social exquisites. The jeweled snuff-box—what a treasure it was! And now—well, we do change, don't we?"—New York Globe.

The pharmacist makes an honorable name of it. See page 11, Philadelphia Record.

FATHER 80-MOTHER 76

The aged father and mother of a prominent Boston lawyer safely carried through the last two winters by

Vinol

The son says: "My father and mother owe their present strength and good health to Vinol. During the last two trying winters neither of them had a cold, and were able to walk farther and do more than for years. I think Vinol is perfectly wonderful. It certainly is the greatest blood-making, strengthening tonic for old people I ever heard of."

We want every feeble old person in this town to try Vinol. We will return their money without question if it does not accomplish all we claim for it.

SLED RIDING COMES WITH THE FIRST SNOW

Youngsters, and Others, Enjoy Pastime on Fifth Street.

Sled riding has been quite popular pastime for the youngsters, and some others, the past day or two and Fifth street, which furnishes the best track has been crowded with sleds. Thus far, as near as can be learned, there has been no one seriously injured, although the usual mishaps have been noted. There have been some narrow escapes, one of them being at noon, when a sled containing two boys and two girls on Fifth street nearly ran into a horse and buggy at Washington avenue.

The Red Cross Tanning Process

The ordinary sole is tanned in six weeks; shoes used to have the tanning process and then the leather. This is why ordinary shoes feel hot and heavy, why they draw your feet. The Red Cross sole is tanned by a special process that takes six months—you can head it when new.

Oxfords $3.50 and $4.
High Shoes $4 and $5

You have seen the Red Cross Shoe advertised in the Ladies' Home Journal, Delineator, Women's Home Companion, Designer and other fashion magazines but have you worn it?

Women are enthusiastic about it. It is so easy to walk in. Tanned by the special Red Cross process the sole is flexible, it bends with your foot. The styles this fall make your feet look so well.
